The secret powers of time

Do you often think about the past? Can you enjoy the present time, or do you worry about the future? The psychologist Professor Philip Zimbardo describes three types of people: past, present and future people.

What time type are you?

Past types

You enjoy remembering the past and sometimes you miss 'the good old days'. You worry about making changes or trying new things. You spend a lot of time with your family.

Present types

The most important thing is to feel good now. You like doing fun things with fun people. You don't have a healthy lifestyle. You avoid doing difficult or boring things.

Future types

You spend most of your time working, saving and planning for a better future. You eat well and exercise regularly. You can say 'no' to immediate pleasures. You don't mind waiting for the good things in life. Future people are usually more successful in work and study. But they often don't enjoy their free time because they are busy thinking about the next thing.

According to Zimbardo's research, most people are mainly a past, present or future type, although everybody is sometimes the other types. Ideally, we should try to have an equal balance of all three to be happy and successful, and to have good relationships.

'Take a photo of it and I'll look at it when I get home!'

THIS BLOG IS ANGRY!

So ... I'm in the Louvre Museum in Paris and I'm looking at one of the most famous paintings in the world, Mona Lisa by Leonardo da Vinci. But I can't actually see it very well, because there are two tourists standing in front of it, and they are taking photos of the painting. But wait ... no, it's not a photo ... it's a film. They're filming the painting! And then one stands next to the Mona Lisa as the other films her.

As they go off, one says, 'We'll post that on Facebook and have a look at it back at the hotel'. Another tourist arrives, looks at the painting for a second, takes a photograph of it and moves on.

But isn't the whole reason for going to the gallery to see the paintings 'live'? OK, you can look at them on the museum website. But seeing them actually in front of you is a different experience. That's why I went – to see the real thing. Why look at it on a tiny screen when the whole wonderful thing is there in front of you? But really these

High frequency				Low frequency
always	most days nearly always usually often	sometimes every now and then occasionally	hardly ever rarely	never

We use adverbs of frequency and frequency expressions when we talk about how often we do things or how often things happen.

Specific frequency expressions:

once	a	day
twice		week
three times etc.		month, etc.

- In positive sentences, we put adverbs of frequency (including the expressions hardly ever and nearly always) before the main verb, but after the verb be.
- In negative sentences, we put adverbs of frequency after auxiliary verbs (do/does), but we put sometimes before the auxiliary.
- In questions, we put the adverb of frequency after the subject.
