STRATEGY Distinguishing fact from opinion

When you listen to someone, it's important to understand if the information is a fact or their opinion. A fact is a piece of information that we can check and prove true. An opinion is a personal belief about something which you can agree or disagree with.

- 3.06 Read the strategy. Look at the sentences in Ex 4. Listen again and decide which sentences show facts and which show opinions.
- MEDIATION Work in small groups. Create an infographic with the title: Five things you need to know about avocados. Use the information in Ex 2 and find one new piece of information online. Then show and explain the infographic to the class.
- Work in pairs. Use the questions to make notes about a vegetable or fruit that you know. Include some facts and some opinions.
 - What fruit / vegetable is it? What does it look like? Where does it grow?
 - How do you eat it? Can you cook it? What are your favourite recipes with this vegetable / fruit?
 - What's your opinion about this vegetable / fruit?
 - Why should / shouldn't we eat it?
- Work in groups. Pair A: tell Pair B about your fruit / vegetable. Pair B: listen and write down facts and opinions you hear. Then swap. Who presented more facts?

Facts

Strawberries are red and sweet.

Opinions

Strawberries taste best when you eat them in a salad with a lot of spinach and a little blue cheese.

Developing healthy habits

- 1  THINK & SHARE Look at the picture of an app and discuss the questions.

- Do you try to develop healthy habits? What kind of habits are you working on?
- Is it difficult for you to develop a healthy habit? Why? / Why not?

- 2 VOCABULARY Match the words below to the definitions.

develop focus give up in advance
keep track make patient succeed

- _____ habits: start to have something that becomes better and stronger
- _____ something: stop, not to do or have anymore
- _____ in doing something: to achieve something that you have been trying to do
- plan* _____: decide earlier how you'll do something
- _____ on: think about one thing only and not about others
- _____ of something: continue to have information about what's happening
- be* _____: wait for a long time without becoming angry
- _____ a mistake: do something that is not correct

- 3  3.07 Listen to the Healthy Me podcast and answer the questions.

- What example of a habit does the speaker give?
- What problems does the speaker mention people might have on the first and on the second day?
- Why does it take a long time to develop new habits?

- 4 EXAM MEDIATION  3.07 Your friend Liam missed the podcast and has asked you to summarise the content for him. Listen again and complete the email with information from the podcast. Write one word in each gap.

RE: Project about developing habits

Hi Liam,

How strange! I also can't find this podcast online anymore. Luckily, I downloaded it, so here's all the information you need for your project.

The guy in the podcast says that developing healthy habits is ¹ _____. He gives three reasons for that. Number 1: we don't take enough time to ² _____ our new habits. Number 2: we can't ³ _____ in our goals every day. Number 3: it's impossible to change ⁴ _____ at the same time.

Then he gives a few tips. He says it's best to choose one habit which is ⁵ _____ to us, and then plan how to make it work. It helps to check how well we do every day. To do it, we can use an ⁶ _____ or ⁷ _____ it down somewhere. And he warns us that it can take a lot of ⁸ _____ to develop new habits.

Good luck with your project.

Matt

- 5 Read the questionnaire. Choose the correct alternatives.

Questionnaire

- The healthy habit I want to ¹ develop / give up: _____
- How often do you want to do it?
A every day B a few times a week C every week
- Did you try to change this habit in the past?
A yes B no
If you answered yes, describe what mistakes you ² made / did.

- Why is it difficult for you to develop this habit?
A I haven't got much time to do it.
B I don't really like doing it, but I know it's good for me.
C How many habits can I develop at the same time? This is one of many habits I'm working on.
D I don't want to wait for results. I ³ don't plan in advance / am not patient.
E I know this isn't good for me, but I can't ⁴ give it up / keep track of it.
- What will you do this time to make sure you ⁵ succeed / give up?
A ⁶ Plan in advance / Keep track of the habit using an app.
B ⁷ Succeed in / Focus on one habit only.
C Prepare myself to develop this habit – I will _____.

-  Look at the questionnaire in Ex 5. Choose a healthy habit you would like to work on. Complete the questionnaire for you.
-  Work in pairs. Tell your partner what habit you want to develop and talk about your answers in the questionnaire.
-  Work in pairs. Think about what you discussed in Ex 7 and answer the questions.
 - Do you think your partner will succeed? Why? / Why not?
 - What else can your partner do to develop their healthy habit?

Sport

- Look at the timetable and answer the questions.
 - In what ways is the timetable different from your school timetable? Would you like to go to this school? Why? / Why not?
 - Is there enough sport for you at school? Would you like to have more or fewer P.E. lessons?
- Read the online leaflet and the comments. What sports can you do at the Green Lane Community Centre?

- THINK & SHARE Imagine your school received money to open a class where students could do more sport or outdoor activities. What sports or activities, in your opinion, could students do in this class? How would you encourage students to choose the class?

Modals of obligation

- Look at the photo and read the first paragraph. Would you like to know more about underwater hockey lessons? Why? / Why not?
- Read the rest of the leaflet. What kind of people will enjoy underwater hockey lessons?

Underwater hockey lessons

Are you looking for an exciting new sports activity? Choose underwater hockey at Dolphin Swim Club.

What is underwater hockey?
Underwater hockey is a fun team game which you play on the bottom of a swimming pool. There are ten players in each team, but only six are in the water. Each team tries to get the puck into the other team's goal.

What equipment does a player need to have during the practice?
Everyone has to have a mask, a snorkel and a pair of fins. They also need to wear a glove and use a special kind of stick.

What are the rules?

- You mustn't stand on the bottom of the pool.
- You must use the stick to move the puck.
You mustn't touch it with your hands.
- You mustn't push or pull other players.

You needn't worry about the rules in your first lesson. The coach will explain everything.

What do I have to bring for the first lesson?
You don't have to bring anything. Just come and enjoy!

For more information, contact Coach Brian on 07890 772 395.

- Choose the correct alternative.
 - You don't have to / mustn't bring a ball to basketball practice. There are a lot of balls in the gym.
 - Everyone needs / must wear a helmet when they go skiing in some parts of Canada.
 - Do you have / need to do a warm-up at the beginning of your P.E. lessons?
 - Jason has to / needn't save money for a sports watch. He got one from his parents last week.
 - We needn't / mustn't wear shoes in the gym. We can only wear trainers.
 - What do I have / must to do to join the school volleyball team?
 - We mustn't / don't have to wear a tracksuit in class. It's against school rules.
 - You have to / needn't know how to play badminton before you join the club at school. It isn't for beginners.
- Complete the online posts. Sometimes there is more than one correct answer.

@Ava I do different sports in an after-school club. I'm quite good, but I want to be better! What do you ¹ _____ do to be really good at sports?

@Nina You probably ² _____ do a lot of sports. They all teach you some new skills! It's a good idea to try new activities – for example, learn to play volleyball or go hiking at the weekend. In my opinion, you ³ _____ do exercise every day. It's enough to do it three or four times a week. Sport ⁴ _____ be fun, so don't forget that, and enjoy your practice.

@Syed Do you want to be really good? Then you ⁵ _____ miss a practice! Nothing is more important than practice when you want to be the best. You ⁶ _____ do many different sports. Choose one you like, and focus on it!

- MEDIATION Your friend is interested in underwater hockey. Work in pairs and tell them about the rules and the equipment in your own words.
- What are the rules in your school? Complete the sentences using must, mustn't, have to, need to, don't have to and needn't. Then work in pairs and discuss your answers with your partner.

Grammar animation

- We use _____ and need to to say that it's necessary to do something.
- When we want to say that it isn't necessary to do something, we use don't / doesn't _____, or _____.
- We use must when we talk about things which are important to do, or to talk about written rules.
- We use _____ when we talk about things which aren't allowed.

GRAMMAR BOOSTER P137

Let's walk

1  EXAM Work in pairs. Look at the photo in the article and answer the questions.

- How do you get to school, to your friend's house, to a shopping centre or to after-school classes? Do you go by bus, by car or on foot?
- Do you use a sports watch or an app to count your steps? If yes, how many steps do you take every day?

STRATEGY Predicting from subheadings

To understand a text better, look at the title and the subheadings before reading. Try to guess what the text is going to be about. Later, when you read it, check your predictions.

2 Read the strategy. Then look at the title and subheadings in the article. Work in pairs and answer the questions.

- What do you think the text will be about?
- Do you know anything about this topic? Did you read a similar article in the past?
- Do you think the article will be interesting for you? Why? / Why not?
- Which part would you like to read the most?

3  3.10 Read the article. Which of your predictions about the subheadings in Ex 2 were correct?

The power of walking

Get creative

Do you have a lot of great ideas when you're walking? If you do, you aren't the only one. Scientists from Stanford University noticed that, and they did an experiment. They asked 176 students to do a few creative tasks. During the experiment, some students were walking, while others were sitting. Those who were walking were 60% more creative than those who were sitting.

Remember better

In the USA, some schools began to use a special programme of walking classrooms. Instead of sitting in their classroom, students walk outside, wear headphones and listen to an audio lesson. Tests show that students in walking classrooms remember more information. Similar ideas about studying while walking are used by teachers in Canada, Mexico and Spain.

Walk and talk

Not only schools benefit from walking. Steve Jobs, the creator of Apple, often organised walking meetings. He looked for creative solutions with his employees while they were walking. Today, many managers in Silicon Valley and around the world organise walking meetings. They say that some of their employees seem to be more creative when they move.

Silicon Valley (n) the area in California where there are many companies connected with the computer and electronics industries composer (n) a person who writes music

4 Read the article again. Correct the mistakes in the sentences.

- Students who were sitting had as many ideas as students who were walking.
- In the walking classrooms, students learn more new information than in sitting classrooms.
- Managers believe that their employees have creative ideas because they do sport in their free time.
- Dickens was walking and writing his books at the same time.
- Darwin was walking in the park and thinking of his science problems.

5 Look at the article and write questions for the answers.

- scientists from Stanford University
Who proved that when you walk, you are more creative?
- 176
- They use headphones to listen to their lessons.
- Canada, Mexico and Spain
- Because he needed creative ideas from his employees.
- Beethoven, Dickens and Darwin

6 VOCABULARY Match the highlighted words in the article to the definitions.

- a person who works for somebody _____
- a person who studies science, for example physics, chemistry or biology _____
- to see or hear somebody / something _____
- to be in a better position because of something _____
- having the skill to produce something new _____
- a way of dealing with a problem _____

7  THINK & SHARE Discuss in pairs.

- Did you learn anything new from the article? What was it?
- Imagine you and your friends had to make an experiment to check the information in the article. What would you do? What would your experiment look like?

Famous people that walked

The idea of going for a walk to think isn't new. The German composer Beethoven walked around Vienna and made notes. He used them later when he was working on his music. Charles Dickens, a British writer, walked for many kilometres while he was planning his books. British scientist Charles Darwin built a path around his house. He called it his 'thinking path' and often walked there when he needed to solve problems.

Where did the time go?

1 Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.

- What problem does the girl in the photo have?
- Do you remember the last time you had a similar problem? Describe what happened.

2 Listen to a dialogue between Poppy and her dad. Answer the questions.

- Why is Poppy wearing sports clothes?
- What, according to Poppy, happens to her every day?
- What does Dad tell her to do?
- What's the problem with Poppy's list?
- How does Dad want to solve this problem?
- What should Poppy do when she takes a break?
- Is Poppy happy with Dad's advice?

3 Listen again. Tick (✓) the phrases that Poppy and her dad use. Then listen and repeat.

PHRASEBOOK Asking for and giving advice

Asking for advice

What should I do?
What do you suggest?
What do you think I should do?

Giving advice

You should / shouldn't ...
It's / It isn't a good idea to ...
Why don't you ... ?
Try to ...
How about ... ?

4 Do you think Dad's advice will help Poppy? What else can you tell Poppy to help her with her problem?

PRONUNCIATION /ʊ/ and /u:/ sound

Remember that in English we have a long /u:/ sound, like in the word choose and a short /ʊ/ sound, like in the word book.

5 Read the pronunciation box. Listen to the words from the dialogue. Circle the words with a short /ʊ/ sound like book. Underline the words with a long /u:/ sound like choose.

(book) choose could do fruit look put school smoothie too took tracksuit

6 Listen again. Repeat the words.

STRATEGY Using collocations

When you learn new collocations, make a list of phrases and try to use them later in a conversation. Collocations will help you speak faster and more fluently. They'll also make your speech more varied.

7 Read the strategy. Complete the diagrams with the missing collocations with the words below.

a list a mistake a phone call a seat a shower
a smoothie a warm-up ages exercises homework photos plans the bed the bus
the housework the shopping yoga

8 Work in pairs. Compare your diagrams. Can you think of other collocations with the verbs make, do and take?

9 Look at the speaking tasks. Write three pieces of advice you can give in each situation. Use the phrases from the Phrasebook.

Your room is always messy and you can't find things that you need. You tidy it every week, but it doesn't help. Ask your friend for advice.

Your cousin, who you last saw a few years ago, is coming to visit you this weekend. You don't know what you can do together. Ask your friend for advice.

10 Work in pairs. Choose one of the speaking tasks in Ex 9 and prepare a dialogue. Use some collocations and the phrases for asking for and giving advice in the Phrasebook.

11 Work in pairs. Practise your dialogue in Ex 10.

12 Work in pairs and answer the questions.

- Did you ask for and give advice? Which phrases in the Phrasebook did you use?
- Did you use any collocations?

An opinion blog

1 Discuss in pairs.

- Do you ever eat ready meals? Or do you usually cook?
- Do you think people need to know how to cook?
Where can you learn to cook?

Should students learn to cook at school?

- Why should I learn to cook when I can buy a ready meal in a supermarket? Well, that is what I thought until we had our first cooking lesson at school. Now I believe all students should learn to cook.
- In the lessons, we learn to use a recipe and prepare a meal step by step. Last week, we learned a few dishes which were quick and easy to make.
- As I see it, these lessons are the best way to discover that cooking isn't difficult. Besides, in my opinion, cooking with friends is really enjoyable. We all share responsibilities and help each other. And when our dish is ready, it's fun to eat it together.
- It also seems to me that in cooking classes, we can learn a lot about food waste. How? We first have to plan what to bring and how much. When we finish cooking, we have to decide what to do with the products that are left.
- Last week, I cooked dinner for my family for the first time. They all loved it! Personally, I think these are the most useful classes we have.

- In my _____, ...
- It _____ to me ...
- _____, I think ...

STRATEGY Expanding on main points

In an opinion blog, you support your opinion by giving a different argument in each paragraph. When you aren't sure how to develop your main point, you can ...

- explain why you think so.
- give examples.
- add more details.

4 Read the strategy and look at paragraph 2 in the opinion blog. Which sentence (A–F) is the main point in the paragraph? Which sentences develop the main point? Which point does the writer not talk about?

- You discover that cooking doesn't take much time.
- You learn to use a recipe.
- You learn how to use kitchen equipment.
- You learn to cook quick and simple dishes.
- You do everything step by step.
- You learn that cooking is easy.

5 Look at paragraphs 3 and 4 in the opinion blog. Add one more sentence to expand the main point.

6 Read the question below and then plan your opinion blog using questions 1–3.

Should teenagers do their own food shopping?

- How would you answer the question? What is your food shopping experience?
- What three arguments can you give to support your opinion? How can you expand on these arguments?
- Can you add a personal comment and an opinion at the end of your blog post?

7 Write an opinion blog. Use the topic and notes you made in Ex 6. Remember to expand your main points.

8 CHECK YOUR WORK Did you ...

- express your opinion in paragraph 1?
- write arguments in paragraphs 2, 3 and 4?
- present a clear, main point in paragraphs 2–4 which you explained and developed?
- add a personal comment and an opinion at the end of your blog post?
- check spelling, grammar and punctuation?

EXAM STRATEGY

When you have to decide whether statements about a text are true or false, you need to find evidence in the text. For each statement, underline the sentences in the text which support your answer.

- 1  Read the strategy above. Then read the exam task in Ex 2. Read the article and look at the first statement. Is it true or false? Which sentences support your answer?
- 2  Read the article about Jamie Oliver. For each statement, write T (True) or F (False).

Jamie Oliver

Jamie Oliver is one of Britain's favourite chefs, writers and restaurant managers. Jamie grew up with food. His parents worked in their own pub and restaurant. Young Jamie often helped in the kitchen. When he finished school at the age of sixteen, he started at catering college. He then worked in a few different restaurants. While he was working at a restaurant, a TV producer at the BBC discovered him and asked him to do a TV show. It was called The Naked Chef and was very successful. It was the first of many programmes and the book, with the same name, was also the first of his many books about food. Jamie continued making programmes about British, American and Italian food.

Jamie Oliver stopped school very early because he was dyslexic. He didn't read a full novel until he was 38. Today, Jamie thinks it's a good idea to look at dyslexia in a positive way. He says that people with dyslexia can be very creative because they think in a different way from other people. This is also important for many children in school today. Jamie knows that many young people aren't successful enough at school, for lots of reasons. He started a restaurant called Fifteen, where young people with problems can learn about cooking and working in restaurants.

Jamie Oliver is also famous for trying to make school meals healthy. Many years ago, he started to work with schools, students and parents and the government to help children eat healthy food at school. At the time, many British children only ate fried food for their school lunches. They didn't eat enough salad or vegetables. Jamie Oliver appeared in a TV programme called Jamie's School Dinners to help people choose a healthy diet and he continues to work for this goal.

Jamie Oliver is famous for his work and for his public campaigning about healthy meals, but family life is also very important to him. He and his wife have been together since they were seventeen, and they now have five children. The family often appear in videos on his YouTube channel.

- 1 The BBC asked Jamie Oliver to do a TV show because a producer saw his YouTube channel. ____
- 2 Jamie Oliver's TV shows aren't always about British food. ____
- 3 As soon as he left school, Jamie Oliver got a job in a restaurant. ____
- 4 The Naked Chef is the name of a book by Jamie Oliver. ____
- 5 Jamie Oliver had problems with reading at school because he had dyslexia. ____
- 6 The restaurant Fifteen was opened to improve the diets of schoolchildren in Britain. ____
- 7 The aim of the TV show Jamie's School Dinners was to help young people with problems. ____
- 8 Jamie Oliver met his wife when he was famous. ____

CREATE ... a podcast to encourage an active lifestyle

STEP 1

You are going to create a podcast to encourage an active lifestyle and learn about the benefits of sport and being active.

RESEARCH IT!

Go online and find ...

- facts and statistics about the benefits of being active
- three to five ideas of how to be more active

STEP 2

Write the script for the podcast. Think about:

- how you will start the podcast and order ideas
- how you will divide the podcast so both of you speak

STEP 3

Practise the podcast script and make any necessary changes.

STEP 4

Record your podcast.

STEP 5

SHARE IT!

Listen to another pair's podcast. What did you like about it?
