VOCABULARY TRAVEL & TRANSPORT

Objective: use travel and transport vocabulary.

- 1  Discuss the questions.
 - 1 What forms of transport do you use most often?
 - 2 What annoying things do people do on public transport?
- 2  Read the article. Does it mention any of the annoying behaviour that you discussed in exercise 1? Which ones do you think are the worst?

Dude, that's rude!

Want to be the most annoying person on public transport? I've got some tips for you!

Never wait to board a train, just jump the queue and push your way to the front. When the train doors open, don't let the other passengers get off first, just barge in. Go ahead and sit wherever you want. If a seat's reserved for disabled passengers, sit there anyway.

Take up as much space as you can, especially during rush hour when the train's packed with commuters. If the window seat is free, sit on the aisle seat and place your rucksack on the window seat next to you, so nobody else can get to it. Don't bother with the overhead luggage rack. Feeling lazy? Put your feet up on the seat opposite you and don't forget to take your shoes off!

Be a 'manspreader' and take up more space by sitting with your knees wide open.

Feeling hungry? Go to the buffet car and get the smelliest, crunchiest and messiest food you can. If the smell of your food in an enclosed carriage makes people feel ill, especially those who suffer from travel sickness, that's their problem. When you've finished, leave the litter on the seat. A member of the train crew can deal with it.

Play your favourite music, at high volume. Don't use headphones, especially in the quiet carriage. If a fellow passenger asks you to turn the volume down, suggest they mind their own business.

Phrasal verbs barge in – enter a place in a rude way take up – fill a space

3 EXAM Find words in the article that mean the following.

- 1 a separate section of a train for carrying people
- 2 people who work on public transport
- 3 people who travel to and from work
- 4 rubbish left in a public place
- 5 get on (a train, plane, ship, etc.)
- 6 go to the front without waiting

4 MEDIATION Your classmate missed this lesson. Email them the main points from the article and the class discussion.

5 Read the Vocabulary strategy. Then complete the sentences with some of the highlighted compound nouns in the article.

Vocabulary strategy

A compound noun is made up of two words. They can be written as single words, two separate words or two words joined with a hyphen. If you understand each part of the compound, you can usually guess its meaning.

- 1 Do you carry your things in a (...)?
- 2 Do you prefer over-ear (...) or in-ear ones?
- 3 Do you ever get (...) in a car or boat?
- 4 Does your local public transport get very crowded at (...)?
- 5 Do you usually choose to sit in a window or (...)?

6 Ask and answer the questions in exercise 5 with a partner.

7 Listen to three people talking about travel and transport. Which question A–C is each person answering?

- A What is your favourite form of transport and why?
- B Do you often use public transport? What do you like or dislike about it?
- C What do you think is the most environmentally friendly way to travel? Why?

Your turn!

8 Ask and answer the questions in exercise 7 with a partner.

DOCUMENTARY Sustainable tourism on El Hierro

- A What do you know about tourism in the Canary Islands? Discuss with a partner.
- B Watch the video. Were any of the things you discussed in exercise A mentioned?
- C Watch the video again and answer the questions.
 - 1 Why are locals unhappy about tourists coming to the Canary Islands?
 - 2 What is special about El Hierro?
 - 3 What is a geopark?

Learning situation Step 1

Work in small groups. Decide on three sections that you would like to include on your website to encourage people to travel locally. Use your own ideas or some of the ideas in the box.

famous buildings food and drink natural wonders places to stay responsible tourism social customs transport transport etiquette wildlife

Objective: read an opinion article.

1    Discuss the questions.

- 1 Which places in the world have become famous because of films or TV series?
- 2 What problems do you think are faced by people who live near famous locations?

2 EXAM  29 Read and listen to the opinion article. Then answer the questions.

- 1 Which films and TV shows are mentioned? Where were they filmed?
- 2 What kind of problems related to overtourism are mentioned?

When film and TV locations become
HOT TRAVEL DESTINATIONS

Have you ever wanted to travel to a place where your favourite film or TV series was shot? 'Location vacations' or 'set-jetting' (a play on 'jet-setting') is nothing new. New Zealand, for example, has attracted Lord of the Rings fans since the early 2000s. But this travel phenomenon has really taken off in the last few years. A recent travel trends report found that streamed films and TV series are now the top sources of travel inspiration, at 44%, way ahead of social media at 15%. Travel experts attribute this trend to the growth of streaming services and the increasing popularity of extended TV drama series.

Destinations that have benefitted from this trend include Romania, the filming location for supernatural comedy Wednesday, where visitor numbers shot up when the series came out.

But while film tourism boosts the economy, it can cause problems for residents. Often places are chosen as film locations precisely because they are quiet or off the beaten track. These areas cannot cope with the sudden increase in visitors.

Take, for example, the Glenfinnan viaduct in Scotland. This stretch of railway was made famous by the iconic Hogwarts Express train in the Harry Potter films. This picturesque area is inhabited by just 150 people, who have to put up with over 500,000 visitors turning up annually to see the famous bridge and take photos of the steam train as it passes over the viaduct. British Transport Police have warned that fans are risking their lives by wandering across the railway. The local authorities have expressed concern about the possibility of accidents due to overcrowding and dangerously parked vehicles.

And then there is Maya Bay, the once quiet beach in Thailand, made famous by the film The Beach, starring Leonardo DiCaprio, which had to be closed off to all visitors for three years so it could recover from damage caused by tourists. It is estimated that 80% of the coral around the bay was destroyed by pollution from litter, boats and sunscreen. Since the bay has reopened, certain restrictions have been put in place to protect the restored coral. For example, tourists can only visit for an hour; swimming and motorboats are banned from the bay.

In the Bronx, in New York, the stone staircase, where Joaquin Phoenix did his famous dance down the steps in the film Joker has become a popular tourist destination. So many fans have flooded to the steps to take selfies or re-enact the dance scene, that visitors have been requested by local authorities to stay away from the landmark because of complaints that their presence is causing an obstacle to local commuters trying to go to work. The locals also object to the fact that fans have no desire to check out the other attractions or restaurants in the neighbourhood. Instead, they just head straight to the steps, take selfies, then go away again, without hanging around long enough to spend any money in the area. Some locals have expressed their feelings in the form of graffiti, saying, 'This is real life. Not a movie.'

This is very true. They and others living near location tourism hotspots have good reason to complain. But the set-jetting trend is also very real. The responsibility lies with the set-jettiers to respect the locals, the environment, and to contribute to the economy, so everybody can benefit.

3 CRITICAL THINKING Discuss the questions.

- 1 What is something new that you learned from the opinion article?
- 2 Do the people who live close to location tourism hotspots have good reasons to complain?

4 MEDIATION A friend wants to visit a popular film location, but they are worried about the impact of their visit on the local community and environment. You have read this article which would be useful to them. Give them some advice using the information in the article.

5 EXAM Read the Reading strategy. Then answer the questions in your own words. Use complete sentences.

Reading strategy

Remember that comprehension questions will not contain exactly the same words as in the text. You need to identify key words and phrases in the questions, then search for paraphrases in the text, e.g. ...

- 1 synonyms, e.g. inspiration → influence.
- 2 the same word in a different form, e.g. inspiration → inspirational.
- 3 use of the passive, e.g. it was reported → a report found.

- 1 What is 'set-jetting' and where does the name come from?
- 2 Why has set-jetting become so popular in recent years?
- 3 How can tourists put themselves in danger when visiting a film location, according to the text?
- 4 How is the Maya Bay beach being negatively affected by tourism, according to the text?
- 5 Why might residents of the Bronx be late to work because of set-jettlers?
- 6 Why might the owner of a restaurant near a famous location disapprove of set-jettlers coming to the area?

6 EXAM Read the opinion article again and decide if the following statements are true (T) or false (F). Give evidence from the article for your answers.

- 1 A recent survey has indicated that there has been a 44% rise in travel to film and TV locations.
- 2 The people who live close to the Glenfinnan viaduct are worried about accidents caused by road congestion.
- 3 As a result of damage caused by tourists at the famous beach in Thailand, the beach is now closed to tourists.
- 4 One of the complaints against fans at the Joker steps is that they spray graffiti on the steps.

7 EXAM Find a sentence in the opinion article that means what has been paraphrased below.

The people who live there also complain that visitors do not want to see any of the other tourist attractions in that area of the city.

8 EXAM Find words in the opinion article that mean the following.

- 1 people or things that cause or provide something (paragraph 1)
- 2 far from other people and houses (paragraph 3)
- 3 worry (paragraph 4)

Vocabulary: phrasal verbs

9 Phrasal verbs can have a literal (clear) meaning or a figurative (unclear) meaning. Find the phrasal verbs in the box in the opinion article and decide which two have a literal meaning.

check out close off come out hang around put up with shoot up stay away take off turn up

10 Replace the words in bold with the correct form of some of the phrasal verbs in exercise 9.

- 1 She arrived late at the airport and missed her flight.
- 2 Let's not wait here too long – this place looks scary.
- 3 When will the film be released?
- 4 I haven't investigated the new café yet.
- 5 Hotel prices have increased enormously.
- 6 'Coolcations,' taking a holiday in cold places, have really become popular.

Your turn!

11 Discuss the questions.

- 1 Which of the places mentioned in the article would you like to visit and why?
- 2 Is there a place you have seen in a film or TV series that you would like to visit?
- 3 Are there any places where you think there are too many tourists?

Learning situation Step 2

Do some research and find five local places that everyone should visit. Check if there are any popular film locations. In your groups, decide on three places to include on your website.

5.3

GRAMMAR
THE PASSIVE

Objective: use the passive voice.

▶ Watch the video and then do the activities.

A The passive: use

📖 Read examples 1–3 from the opinion article on page 58. Then complete the rules with the words in the box.

- This picturesque area is inhabited by just 150 people.
- Have you ever wanted to travel to a place where your favourite film or TV series was shot?
- Visitors have been requested by local authorities to stay away from the landmark.

by does happens

Rules

We use the active voice to describe what someone or something ¹(...) and the passive voice to describe what ²(...) to something or someone.

If we want to say who or what does / did the action (the agent) in a passive sentence, we can use ³(...). We only use the agent (by + noun) when it is important to say who did the action.

B The passive: form

📖 Read the examples. Then choose the correct options in the rules.

Active: Location scouts choose places as film locations because they are quiet.

Passive: Places are chosen by location scouts as film locations because they are quiet.

Rules

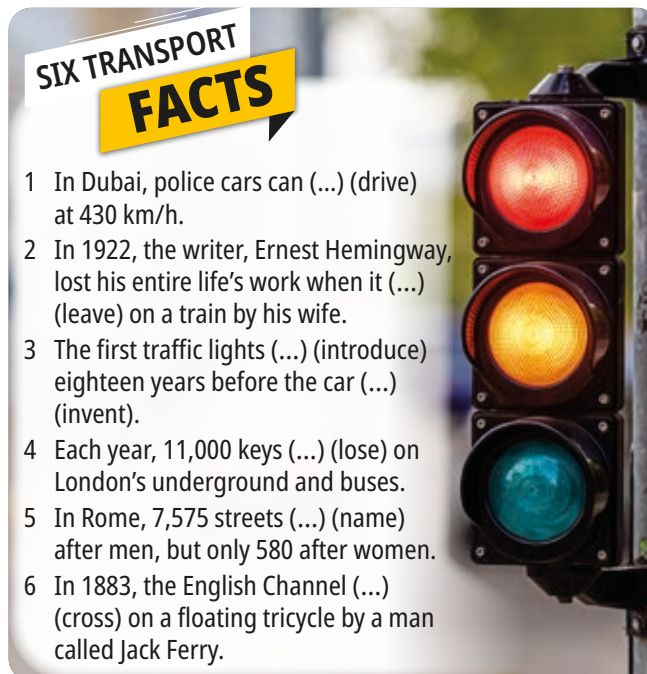

When we change an active sentence to a passive sentence, ...

- we use the verb be + ¹past participle / present participle.
- the ²object / subject in the active sentence becomes the ³object / subject in the passive sentence.
- the ⁴object / subject in the active sentence becomes the agent in the passive sentence.

▶ GRAMMAR REFERENCE WORKBOOK Page 120

WRITING A FOR AND AGAINST ESSAY

Objective: write a for and against essay.

1   34 Look at the photo of 'the swimming pigs' of The Bahamas and answer the questions. Then listen to an extract from a travel podcast and check your predictions.

- 1 How did the pigs get to The Bahamas?
- 2 Why are they swimming in the sea?

2  CRITICAL THINKING Would you like to visit this tourist attraction? Why? / Why not?

3  EXAM Read the exam task and discuss your answer.

Task: 'The swimming pigs' attract many tourists to The Bahamas. Discuss the advantages and disadvantages of offering this experience to tourists, and give your opinion.

4 Read the model text. Is the writer for or against the idea of swimming with pigs?

5   Make a list of the arguments for feeding the swimming pigs and the arguments against. Which arguments are stronger in your opinion?

- 1 In recent years, thanks to smartphones, the once little-known swimming pigs of The Bahamas have now become a worldwide sensation and attract large numbers of tourists. However, opinions are mixed about whether allowing tourists to feed and swim with the pigs is ethical.
- 2 On the one hand, there are clear benefits. The unique spectacle of pigs swimming offers a memorable experience for visitors, and attracts people, not just to the island, but to the whole area. This brings in vital income and employment for local residents.
- 3 On the other hand, there are some drawbacks. It can be harmful to the pigs, who may be given food that is dangerous for them to eat. A few years ago, some pigs died after ingesting sand as they were being fed on the beach rather than in the water. It is also feared that the pigs are a threat to the local ecosystem as they damage the environment and compete with other species for food.
- 4 On balance, I believe tourists should be allowed to continue to feed the pigs, since locals rely on the income and employment. However, some strict rules must be followed. For example, the animals should only be given fruit and vegetables and they should not be fed on the beach.

6 TEXT ANALYSIS Read the model text again and answer the questions.

Paragraph 1

- 1 How does the writer introduce the topic?
- 2 What is the purpose of the second sentence?

Paragraphs 2 and 3

- 3 What is the aim of these paragraphs?
- 4 Does the writer give arguments on both sides of the issue?

Paragraph 4

- 5 Which sentence presents the writer's opinion?
- 6 What is the purpose of the final two sentences?

7  Read the Writing strategy. Then decide whether A or B in sentences 1–4 is formal. Explain why.

Writing strategy

In more formal written language, we usually do not use ...

- contractions.
- exclamation marks.
- slang or colloquialisms.

We often use ...

- the passive voice, e.g. It is thought ...
- impersonal language to distance ourselves from opinions, e.g. Many people say ...
- more formal phrases, such as In my opinion ... or There are clearly some benefits ...

- 1 A I think it's a terrible idea!
B In my opinion, this would not be a good idea.
- 2 A The results are believed to be inaccurate.
B The results are definitely wrong.
- 3 A It really bugs me.
